Name of the Event: Women Health Talk

Venue: Methodist College of Engineering & Technology

Date: 08-03-2023

Dr. Sharada Saranu, a renowned gynecologist, delivered a compelling health talk on Women's Day, emphasizing the importance of women's health and wellbeing. In her address, she likely covered various aspects of women's health, including reproductive health, menstrual hygiene, family planning, and preventive care.

Summary Report

Key points Dr. Saranu might have discussed could include:

1. Reproductive Health: Educating women about the importance of regular check-ups, screenings, and maintaining reproductive health throughout different stages of life.
2. Menstrual Hygiene: Promoting awareness about maintaining proper menstrual hygiene practices to prevent infections and other related health issues.
3. Family Planning: Providing information about different contraception options available, empowering women to make informed choices about family planning and reproductive rights.
4. Preventive Care: Stressing the significance of preventive measures such as vaccinations, healthy lifestyle choices, and regular health screenings to detect any potential health concerns early on.
5. Mental Health: Addressing the importance of mental health awareness and support, as women often juggle multiple roles and may experience unique stressors and challenges.
6. Healthy Lifestyle: Encouraging women to prioritize self-care, including exercise, balanced nutrition, stress management, and adequate sleep, to maintain overall health and wellbeing.
7. Empowerment: Empowering women to take charge of their health, advocate for themselves in healthcare settings, and seek medical attention when needed without hesitation.
8. Community Support: Highlighting the significance of community support networks, where women can share experiences, seek advice, and access resources for their health needs.

Faculty and Students participating in the programme

Dr. Sharada Saranu's talk likely served as a platform to educate, inspire, and empower women to prioritize their health and make informed decisions to lead fulfilling and healthy lives. Such initiatives play a crucial role in promoting women's health and advancing gender equality in healthcare.
