The act of delaying tasks despite knowing the negative consequences, is a common challenge faced by many individuals. This report provides an overview of key insights and strategies discussed during the "Understanding and Overcoming Procrastination" seminar aimed at helping participants tackle this issue effectively.

Procrastination often stems from various factors, including fear of failure, perfectionism, lack of motivation, and poor time management skills. Understanding these underlying causes is crucial in developing effective strategies to overcome procrastination.

Key insight of the seminar was:

1. Participants were encouraged to reflect on their behaviors and identify the root causes of their procrastination tendencies.
2. Adopting a growth mindset can transform how individuals perceive failure and setbacks
3. Breaking down tasks into smaller, manageable chunks helps overcome the overwhelming feeling that often leads to procrastination.
4. Setting realistic deadlines and creating accountability mechanisms can motivate individuals to prioritize tasks and avoid procrastination.
5. Minimizing distractions, such as social media, multitasking, and environmental factors, is essential for improving focus and productivity

The "Understanding and Overcoming Procrastination" seminar provided participants with practical insights and strategies to address procrastination effectively. By fostering self-awareness, adopting a growth mindset, and implementing targeted interventions, individuals can break free from the cycle of procrastination and achieve greater productivity and satisfaction in their personal and professional lives. According to students feedback the talk was Extremely relevant and helpful

Report on International Day against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking-2024

Introduction: The National Service Scheme (NSS) is a governmental initiative aimed at fostering social responsibility and community engagement among youth in India. Recently, NSS programs have been organized to address pressing issues such as awareness about Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking. Various dignitaries have been involved in these programs to educate, empower, and advocate for solutions.

Drug Awareness: One of the primary focuses of NSS programs has been to educate children and adolescents about Drug Abuse. NSS volunteers conduct workshops, seminars, and awareness campaigns in schools, colleges, and communities to educate children, parents, and teachers about this sensitive issue. Dignitaries such as psychologists, child rights activists, and law enforcement officials often participate in these programs to provide expert guidance and support.

Illicit Trafficking Issue: The issue Illicit Trafficking is increasing now a days. NSS initiatives work towards raising awareness about this issue and advocating for measures to prevent Illicit Trafficking. NSS volunteers collaborate with law enforcement agencies, technology experts, and community leaders to conduct awareness on this. Dignitaries such as women's rights activists, cyber security experts, and legal experts play a crucial role in guiding these initiatives and influencing policy changes.

Involvement of Dignitaries: Various dignitaries, including government officials, social activists, experts, and celebrities, have actively participated in NSS programs addressing good Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking. Their involvement adds credibility, visibility, and expertise to these initiatives, helping to garner public attention and support. Dignitaries often deliver keynote speeches, conduct interactive sessions, and participate in panel discussions to share insights, provide guidance, and inspire action among participants.

Conclusion: NSS programs addressing Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking play a vital role in promoting social awareness, empowering communities, and fostering positive change. From the college 53 student volunteers attended the event and learnt so much information. The involvement of various dignitaries adds value to these initiatives by providing expertise, guidance, and support. Moving forward, continued collaboration between NSS, dignitaries, and community stakeholders is essential to address these pressing issues effectively and create safer, more inclusive environments for all.

Report on Women Awareness and Traffic awareness

Introduction: The National Service Scheme (NSS) is a governmental initiative aimed at fostering social responsibility and community engagement among youth in India. Recently, NSS programs have been organized to address pressing issues such as awareness about good touch and bad touch, combating hidden camera problems faced by women, and tackling traffic violations. Various dignitaries have been involved in these programs to educate, empower, and advocate for solutions.

Combating Hidden Cameras Issue: The issue of hidden cameras, especially in public spaces like restrooms, changing rooms, and private establishments, poses a significant threat to privacy and safety, particularly for women. NSS initiatives work towards raising awareness about this issue and advocating for measures to prevent and detect hidden camera installations. NSS volunteers collaborate with law enforcement agencies, technology experts, and community leaders to conduct awareness drives, install surveillance equipment, and implement stringent penalties for offenders. Dignitaries such as women's rights activists, cyber security experts, and legal experts play a crucial role in guiding these initiatives and influencing policy changes.

Addressing Traffic Violations: Traffic violations remain a pervasive problem in many urban areas, leading to road accidents, injuries, and loss of lives. NSS programs focus on promoting road safety awareness and encouraging responsible driving behavior among motorists, pedestrians, and cyclists. Through road safety campaigns, traffic management workshops, and community outreach activities, NSS volunteers strive to educate the public about traffic rules, safe driving practices, and the consequences of violations. Dignitaries such as traffic police officials, transportation authorities, and road safety advocates actively participate in these programs to lend their expertise and support.

Involvement of Dignitaries: Various dignitaries, including government officials like CM Revanth Reddy Garu and etc, social activists, experts, and celebrities, have actively participated in NSS programs addressing good touch and bad touch, hidden camera issues, and traffic violations. Their involvement adds credibility, visibility, and expertise to these initiatives, helping to garner public attention and support. Dignitaries often deliver keynote speeches, conduct interactive sessions, and participate in panel discussions to share insights, provide guidance, and inspire action among participants.

Conclusion: NSS programs addressing, hidden camera issues, and traffic violations play a vital role in promoting social awareness, empowering communities, and fostering positive change. Two students attended the event and gained so much valid information. The involvement of various dignitaries adds value to these initiatives by providing expertise, guidance, and support. Moving forward, continued collaboration between NSS, dignitaries, and community stakeholders is essential to address these pressing issues effectively and create safer, more inclusive environments for all.

NSS Cell in Coordination with CSE Department Report On National Productivity

Seminar National Productivity was organized by our NSS unit with CSE Department, Participants of 100 from students and the staff members attended the program. The speaker is Mr.R.Peddi Raju from SPP, Hyderabad. He explained the importance of “National Productivity Day. The below are some important points of the seminar.

National Productivity Day is observed every year on February 12 in India. This day commemorates the establishment of the National Productivity Council (NPC). The main objective of this day is to raise awareness about the importance of enhancing productivity, efficiency, and innovation. The celebration is part of the Indian Productivity Week, which spans from February 12 to February 18.

The theme for 2024 is “Artificial Intelligence (AI) - Productivity Engine for Economic Growth”, highlighting the crucial role of AI in driving a country’s economic growth and productivity.

The NPC, an autonomous body, was established in 1958 by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry to advance India’s culture of productivity.

The day serves as a reminder for individuals, organizations, and governments to adopt practices and strategies that promote efficiency, innovation, and sustainable development.

World Wetland Day Report

Our college is set to commemorate World Wetland Day on 02-02-2024, fostering environmental consciousness among students and staff. The awareness program, scheduled for 11 a.m. in Seminar Hall D-block, is a collaborative effort between the Pollution Control Board of Telangana, the NSS cell, and the Civil Engineering Department of our institute.

This initiative aims to educate participants about the critical role wetlands play in biodiversity, water purification, and flood control. The event will feature presentations by experts from the Pollution Control Board, shedding light on the importance of wetland conservation and sustainable management.

The program aligns with the college's commitment to environmental stewardship, providing a platform for students and staff to engage with pressing ecological issues. Through interactive sessions and discussions, attendees will gain insights into practical measures for wetland preservation.

This collaborative effort signifies the synergy between academic institutions and governmental bodies in addressing environmental concerns. By actively participating in the World Wetland Day awareness program, our college strives to contribute to a more environmentally conscious and responsible community.

Report On Blood Donation Camp

A Blood donation camp was organized by our NSS unit, in collaboration with P.V.Narasimha Rao Memorial Charitable Trust, Hyderabad, through which 170 units of blood was donated by both students and the staff members. It is a way of Methodist College of Engineering & Technology gesture in bringing a ray of hope to contribute to the serious problems of acutest shortage of blood. India faces a blood shortage of 3 million units. The problem can be addressed if an additional two percent of Indians donate blood, as opened by the Health experts. We need 12 million units of blood every year but just about nine million units are being donated. Our College has been religiously organizing blood donation camps every year and students and the faculty members come forward voluntarily to donate blood. While addressing to people at the camp our NSS volunteers brought awareness in them about shortage of blood and why we must donate blood every year, to help the persons requiring blood. Blood donation can save lives of innumerable persons. Donation of blood is very critical and crucial for saving lives many patients and those who have met with accidents. It is as such a great service or contribution to the society and people living in it.

Health Camp Report

The health camp commenced at 7 a.m., on 17th september, 2023 providing an early start for attendees to partake in a series of essential health assessments. The planned tests included blood pressure (B.P), blood sugar levels, and 2D Echo examinations, ensuring a comprehensive evaluation of cardiovascular health. These tests were instrumental in identifying potential health concerns and fostering a proactive approach to wellness.

Furthermore, the organizers exhibited thoughtful consideration by arranging a nutritious and wholesome breakfast for all participants. This added dimension aimed to promote not only diagnostic wellness but also encouraged a holistic approach to health through dietary awareness.

Overall, the collaborative effort of TYTCC and NSS unit in orchestrating this health camp exemplifies a commitment to the health and well-being of the staff members, fostering a culture of preventive healthcare within the institution.
